As a truck driver I depend on satellite radio tremendously. Especially for weather and traffic conditions around the country where I am traveling. I depend on satellite radio to keep me safe on the road. Knowing weather conditions helps me decide my routes and if I should stop if severe weather is ahead. I'm also sure it has saved a few lives of both other truck drivers and the traveling public because of the information it provides. It is fantastic technology and has a great future for the welfare of this country.

You can't beat it.
